An express trust is a trust made by its maker rather than one which has been concluded by the law. The term "expressing the trust" means to personally (typically in writing) declare your office associated with the trust in order to avoid additional presumptions fraudulently used by courts, agents, and others to wrongfully appoint you to the incorrect office associated with your estate. When dealing with agents such as the clerk of the court, one must be aware that the clerk has full understanding that you are supposed to be listed as being appointed to or operating from the office of the Beneficiary (Administrator), Executor, or both offices. The clerk deceptively lists you as a trustee and appoints the Judge/Magistrate to the remaining office of Executor (Administrator), and the Prosecutor (Plaintiff) the office of Beneficiary in order to attempt to ensure that the Plaintiff benefits and the Judge/Magistrate as well. This book is intended to teach you how to express your role with the trust .

This document is comprised of two letters. The first is from Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, dated March 1, 1919 and addressed to Major General Enoch H. Crowder, Judge Advocate General. In his letter, Secretary Baker expresses concern over recent harsh criticisms of the U.S. system of military justice and requests that General Crowder answer these criticisms by providing "a concise survey of the entire field" so as to restore the confidence of all those concerned. General Crowder's reply, dated March 10, 1919, follows. After introductory remarks on "prior efforts to revise the Articles of War" and the extent of his own "personal responsibility for the administration of military justice" during the previous two years, General Crowder presents detailed information on three individual cases, addresses at length the general defects that allegedly exist in military justice, and concludes with recommendations.

(Make sure you read this or you won't have a legal leg to stand on.) pages 62 and 69 * If you've been wronged you'll need to write a "demand letter" to the yellow dog. I also show you how to write a killer response if you receive a demand letter. I include real samples.
